Thrilled Audience

It is India's first underwater war film that tries to decode the mystery behind the sinking of Pakistani submarine PNS Ghazi during the Indo-Pak war of 1971.

The objective behind this was not only to refresh the students but also to light the fire of patriotism in them and inculcate a sense of national pride in them.

This underwater thriller left the children in awe of the soldiers, who lay their lives for their country and show courage and heroism against all odds. The children were motivated by the protagonist's speech on the sacrifices that soldiers make so that the rest of the nation can sleep in peace.

At the end, the whole auditorium echoed with the singing of the National Anthem by the students and teachers.
