The introductory session was conducted by Mr Pradip Kalpshetty in which he explained the use of whiteboard software with interactive panels. He made the teachers familiar with some innovative features like google speech search engine, converting google speech into text, splitting the screen into two (one for sharing the pdf of the textbook and the other for sharing audio and video content), how to use the same teaching content with another class/sec.

Most of the teaching tools explained by him were helpful with an ease of use for all the subjects for the online teaching-learning process.
