

AN INTERACTION WITH SUDHA MURTY

"Deep conversations with the right people are priceless"

In the modern and ever changing world, the school is not only the seat of learning but an institution that facilitates the students with new opportunities and avenues of learning and building their skills. The school keeps receiving invitations for different activities and in these pandemic times, realizes the need for breaking the monotony for children. The proposed activity is purely voluntary and on payment basis which may be taken up, if the parents desire.

In this context we are delighted to inform you of yet another enthralling virtual session with India's most-loved children's author - Ms. Sudha Murty organised by 'Koolskool - The Bookstore, Gurugram'. The activity is voluntary.

Stories told by grandparents are often the ones that are most fondly remembered and cherished through the years. Acclaimed author, philanthropist and the Padma Shri award winner, Ms. Murty has delighted us with her heart-touching Indian stories over the years that come packed with nostalgia for the older readers and sweet familiarity for the younger audiences. Following the trail of the best-selling Grandma's Bag of Stories, 'Granparents' Bag of Stories' is another gem in this collection of immortal tales that she has fondly created during the lockdown period for readers to seek comfort and find the magic in sharing and caring for others.

Interested students may join in a virtual interaction with the author to know more about her latest book, which is sure to be a heartwarming addition to their bookshelf.
