The tiny tots, have been through, learning various things such as interactive sessions, interpersonal and interactive skills. These sessions enhanced each little child to identify things around them and enabled them to express their feelings in a vibrant and positive manner. These sessions also help our kid to relate things that he sees around, and made him curious putting forward different questions to us. This activity helps our kid to learn small but very important things such as manners and etiquettes. All the credits go to the teachers, especially Meena mam our kid's class teacher. We as parents would really appreciate their dedication and commitment.

P/o Rijo Thomas, PS E
