Date: 16/08/2023

Classes: I-V

Theme: Rakhi Making for the unsung heroes of our country: Our Soldiers

“Let’s all make a Rakhi for all the brave soldiers standing fearlessly at the border to protect Us.”

Raksha Bandhan, a cherished Indian festival, symbolizes the bond between siblings. Sisters tie a sacred thread (Rakhi) on their brothers' wrists, signifying love and protection. Our soldiers, selflessly live far from home, enduring challenging conditions, to protect our nation. Handmade Rakhis sent to soldiers at the border serve as tokens of gratitude and support. These heartfelt gestures boost their morale, reminding them of the love and appreciation they fight to protect, providing emotional strength during challenging times.
