“The rights of every man are diminished when the rights of one man are threatened.” – John F. Kennedy

The United Nations General Assembly adopted the Universal Declaration of Human Rights (UDHR) on 10 December 1948. To emphasise the importance of the same International Human Rights Day was celebrated by the students of class 1 and 2. Class teachers narrated a story to the students based on the theme International Human Rights Day. Students were then guided and they prepared a poster on the topic on A4 size ivory sheet. It was a beautiful amalgamation of students' creativity.

Students also wrote a slogan based on the theme. It reflected their understanding of the topic. Class teachers selected three best entries from respective sections and forwarded them to the panel of judges for final selection. The selection was on the basis of creativity and neatness of the work. Uniqueness of the slogan was also considered for selecting the work. Overall presentation of all the students was an exemplary compliment to the theme. Students understood the universal importance of basic rights and fundamental freedom.

Students were sensitized that human rights are inherent to all human beings and equally applicable to everyone, irrespective of gender, national or ethnic origin, colour, religion, language, or any other status. The students made a commitment to upholding dignity and justice for all. It also enhanced their creative and cognitive skills. The activity helped in enhancing both language and literary and aesthetic domains of the students based on NEP. Students also learnt to respect each other without any biases.
