Insights on NCF 2023

Discussion on Question Paper Pattern

As per NCF 2023, teaching of this subject should make the student be aware of the need of Economics in our day today living. A student must develop the ability to enquire and become a responsible human being.

The second half of the session was taken over by Mr. Amit Mehrotra, who presented a PPT showing the changing pattern of questions in Economics specially in MCQs. This engaging session was effective for enhancement of CBSE results of Bal Bharati Public School, Noida.

Activity:

- I. Each participant was provided with newspaper cuttings on different types of data representations and were asked to analyse the data with another type of data representation. Three analytical questions were framed on the same data as well.
- II. Another set of newspaper cuttings were given, participants had to connect any one news article with a topic as per the curriculum and 'source-based' questions had to be framed.
- III. Games for learning: A simple game was played with a ball made out of crushed newspaper and few circles drawn, for a better understanding on the topic of Correlation in Statistics.

Conclusion: Competency skill has to be developed amongst students. NCERT books must be read thoroughly by each student of Bal Bharati Public School, Noida in Class XI and XII for a better approach to succeed in this subject. Government schemes launched for welfare of the people in the recent past must be discussed connecting with the curriculum. There are a number of job opportunities both in the public and private sector based on Economics. So, we can conclude with this quote on economic power:

Without education, we are weaker economically.
