Caring hands is a celebration that encourages students to reflect on compassion, empathy, and kindness towards their peers. Through the creative medium of handprint art and positive messages, students will explore the significance of caring for one another, fostering a supportive and understanding community. It will help develop creativity and foster important social values, reminding students of the impact of kindness and understanding in their daily interactions.

Rules and Regulations:

- Participation is compulsory for all students from classes III to V.
- Each student will create a handprint artwork on a piece of paper, decorating their handprint with messages or symbols representing kindness, empathy, and compassion.
- Each student will get 15 minutes to complete their handprint art.
- Class teachers will select one student from their respective sections based on the judgment criteria and forward the selected students' names and artwork to the D-Section by 27.11.24.

Final Round Rules:

- One student from each section will compete in the final round. The students will give a presentation on how they got their idea and the message behind their artwork.
- The final round will take place on 28.11.24.
