CLASS 7-D

For students of classes VI to VIII, a creative and educational mask-making activity was organized. This activity introduced students to the cultural significance of masks and headgear in the North Eastern states of India. It also aimed to foster an appreciation for the diversity and uniqueness of traditional attire and accessories in different Indian communities. The activity allowed students to explore and express their creativity while learning about the rich cultural heritage of India.

The event was a meaningful tribute to Bhagwan Birsa Munda and served as an educational platform for students to connect with history and cultural traditions.
